

Let's tackle your bucket list together.

We all have that list of things we really want to do – but have never had a reason to do them. Well look no further! Make Worldwide Cancer Research your chosen cause and our team will hook you up with all the expert advice you need to dot those i's and cross those t's, making that bucket list more than just a wish list.

Here are some ideas you could add to your bucket list – there's space on the reverse to create your own!

- run a marathon
- tough mudder
- charity ball
- sahara trek
- come dine with me
- swim the channel
- organise a car boot sale
- icelandic lava trek
- sponsored leg wax

event ideas

We believe that bold research will cure cancer, and that the first step is the most important one. Whether your first step is organising a bake sale or taking on a new challenge, every penny you raise will help us kick-start cancer cures around the world.

And we want you to have fun too! Here are some ideas that could come in handy...

go it alone

A solo challenge is your chance to raise more than just your heart rate – set a personal test and fundraising target to match. Whether you've always dreamt of crossing the finish line at the London Marathon or parachuting from a high-flying plane, there are a whole host of ways you can get involved and raise funds.

grab some friends

There's more fun in fundraising events when you team up with friends, family and colleagues. Achieving your goal can be even more rewarding when there's a group of you – so why not up the ante with a team challenge and raise even more funds for life-saving discovery research. We are all Team Worldwide!

Looking for a little help getting things up and running?

Not sure whether you fancy slipping on your running shoes or party pumps?

family fun

Fundraising isn't just something for your workmates and friends, there are plenty of ways you can make it fun for all the family. From bake sales and garden fêtes to games nights and car boot sales, fundraising is a great way to spend time together as a family while raising money for a good cause.

glam up

Hosting a gala dinner or charity ball is a great way to raise both funds and awareness for Worldwide Cancer Research. Maximise fundraising by adding extras such as sponsorship, silent auctions, casino games or raffle prizes. You can also up your ticket price by calling in favours from local entertainers and asking local businesses for raffle prizes.

Call us on 0300 777 7910 and we'll put you in touch with one of our expert fundraisers who will happily answer all your questions.
